

Our Programs and Services

Supporting women, girls and families since 1863.

Introduction

At Good Shepherd, we are committed to ensuring that all women, girls, and families are safe, strong, well, and connected. For over 160 years, we have supported those experiencing vulnerability and disadvantage across Australia, providing services that empower individuals to achieve safety, stability and independence, with the help of our community, government and corporate partners.

Good Shepherd Australia New Zealand is a leading not-for-profit organization focused on driving meaningful change for women, girls, families and communities.

As Australia's oldest charity dedicated to supporting women and girls, we provide holistic, locally tailored services that address family and domestic violence, financial insecurity and youth disadvantage. We offer safe spaces and life-changing support to help women and children recover from abuse and rebuild their lives.

Our unified approach connects our operations across Australia and New Zealand, with an emphasis on place-based, client-centred services. By fostering a culture of collaboration, innovation and bold action, we aim to create measurable, scalable impact.

Through cross-sector partnerships and driving systemic change, Good Shepherd is committed to building a future where safety, resilience and opportunity are accessible to all.

Family & Domestic Violence

Financial Independence Hub (FIH)

Free, confidential support for those who've experienced financial abuse to become more confident with money and plan for their future. The FIH coaches provide support for as long as it's needed – to listen, advise, refer to other services, co-attend appointments, or help work out a budget and negotiate debt.

Proudly supported by CommBank Next Chapter. This program is available to anyone, no matter who they bank with.

FIH participant, Nicole said the program had been life changing.

“Financial abuse left me feeling powerless and that I had no rights. I was ready to get my finances in order. My bank, through their domestic and family violence program did an amazing referral for me to Good Shepherd and I had my own personal cheerleader who was providing a safe space and support and was letting me know I was making progress.”

FIH participant, Nicole

Financial Wellbeing

No Interest Loans (NILs)

No interest, no fees, no charges EVER. Loan recipients pay back only what they borrow.

- Up to $2,000 for essential goods and services like whitegoods, technology, medical, dental or vet expenses, car rego or repairs and more.
- Up to $3,000 for bond, moving expenses or rent-in-advance or recovery from a natural disaster.
- Up to $5,000 for the purchase of an essential vehicle such as a car, mobility scooter, motorcycle or boat.

Eligibility

- Earn less than $70,000 annual income (before tax) as a single person or $100,000 annual income (before tax) if you have a partner or children
- OR Have experienced family or domestic violence in the last 10 years OR Have a Health Care Card/ Pension Card
- AND You can show you can afford to repay the loan
- NOT for bills, debt, cash or crisis

NILs is offered directly through Good Shepherd and through a network of over 170 community partners across Australia.

Single mother of two, Janice was thrilled to discover the scheme existed and that it helped her stay on top of her finances.

“I have been through a pretty tough time, so having a No Interest Loan where the repayments automatically come out of my account fortnightly has been very manageable because of the no interest,” Janice said. “In terms of the process, I also liked how I was guided through it. I just needed some help.”

Financial Inclusion Action Plan (FIAP)

This national program encourages organisations from multiple sectors to promote the financial resilience and wellbeing of their customers, employees and community partners. Every member organisation develops a FIAP with a public commitment to take practical actions and progresses through three levels on their FIAP journey; Foundation, Build and Extend. The actions are designed in conjunction with the FIAP framework which was developed in partnership with EY and the Centre for Social Impact (CSI) at UNSW and includes progress verification, evaluation, and public reporting of results.

The Program also provides opportunities to share learnings and best practices as well as collaborate with leading organisations from diverse sectors.

Corporate Referrals Programs

The Corporate Referrals Programs empower organisations to offer comprehensive financial wellbeing services to their staff and customers. Recognising the interplay between financial, mental, and social aspects of wellbeing, we help address and prevent recurring crises.

Our Case Coordination Program aids corporate partners' customers with multiple needs, including financial vulnerability, through dedicated phone support. We connect clients to Good Shepherd's services and a comprehensive range of other local organisations.

Our Workplace Financial Wellbeing Program builds the financial literacy and capability of corporate staff, including access to tools and resources, and assistance with hardship support.

Mission & Heritage

Former Resident Support

From 1863 to the 1980s, Good Shepherd institutions in Australia and New Zealand housed girls and young women at risk due to poverty, homelessness or family crisis.

The Former Resident Information and Records Service (FRIRS) provides a free and confidential support to Former Residents or their family members to receive copies of their personal records and historical information of their time in Good Shepherd institutions. Contemporary support includes assistance through referral to information and services relevant to Former Residents.

We remember, acknowledge and honour all the women and children who spent time in Good Shepherd institutions.

"I am deeply grateful for your time, skills, your persistence and your compassionate attitude towards my great grandmother who would have been harshly judged by the standards of her time"

Former Resident, Lyn*

The Good Shepherd Archive

The Good Shepherd Archive holds the historical records of the work of Good Shepherd and the Good Shepherd Sisters in Australia and New Zealand, dating from 1863 to the present day. The collection encourages debate and discussion around the care economy and social justice and engages with Sisters, former residents, researchers, and departments across GSA NZ to develop new projects and opportunities for archival engagement.

We worked with our client in our Core & Cluster Refuge to bring her mother from overseas to stay with her in the refuge.

We supported her to enrol her children into childcare, gain employment, get her Learners Permit, and continue her education.

She said "I feel safe and have no stress. I feel more confident and overall, I feel good. I felt listened to, and Good Shepherd respected my culture and background. I liked the activities and birthday celebrations in the refuge and the help I got with childcare and my visa."

Roger had cataracts and required urgent surgery. He had already gone blind in one eye. The public hospital waitlist is 4 years. Roger stopped leaving the house as he no longer felt safe. He couldn't drive, so wasn't able to visit his wife, who lived in aged care. His mental health was suffering. Roger received a NILs loan to cover the cost of surgery. After surgery, Roger came to our Good Money store beaming. He called out, "Hello Fiona, I can see you now!"

Student placements with Good Shepherd

Good Shepherd Australia New Zealand has a commitment to providing student placements to offer knowledge, skills and practical field experience within various program areas.

We can accommodate placement opportunities within many of our programs including family services, family violence and financial counselling. This does not apply to secondary school work experience placements.

If you are interested in a student placement with Good Shepherd, please speak with your education provider. Individual requests for student placements will not be considered.

For enquiries or partnership opportunities please have your education provider reach out to students@goodshep.org.au

Volunteering with Good Shepherd

Good Shepherd Australia New Zealand (GSANZ) recognises and values the contribution that volunteers make to the work of the organization and the continuity of our Mission. Volunteering is a great way to give back to the community and be able to make a tangible difference in the lives of the people that we support. We work side by side with people in the community wherever services are needed and wherever there are opportunities for positive change. The support that volunteers provide to our programs assist us in our vision to aspire for all women, girls and families to be safe, well, strong and connected.

Join us in making an impact in your community by volunteering with Good Shepherd.

For volunteer opportunities please reach out to volunteers@goodshep.org.au

Good Shepherd Training Services

Good Shepherd offers customised training and workshops to meet the needs of organisations and customers. Good Shepherd delivers bespoke training packages to organisations wanting to support staff and clients who may be experiencing family violence, financial hardship, and organisations wanting to promote wellbeing amongst staff. These can include understanding complex circumstances that can lead to vulnerability, increasing family and domestic violence awareness and responses, identifying financial hardship and economic abuse, and applying intersectionality to policies, procedures, and practices.

Good Shepherd fosters relational-based approaches and trauma-informed practice into the workshops, leaving attendees with the skills to incorporate these into their roles.

To enquire about how we may be able to meet your organisational training needs, we welcome you to email the Training and Development team at training@goodshep.org.au

Good Shepherd ANZ's housing strategy includes the Affordable Housing and Refuge Housing classification.

Refuge Housing

Good Shepherd ANZ offers a practical, integrated housing pathway to support women, girls, and families escaping family and domestic violence. Our approach provides safe, flexible housing options throughout the recovery journey – from emergency and crisis housing to longer-term accommodation through transitional housing.

Each stage is linked, offering a clear and supported path for victim-survivors to move between housing options as their needs evolve. We provide access to essential supports, including financial and family counselling, legal assistance, and mental health services, ensuring families receive the help they need at every step of their recovery.

With a place-based approach, we ensure housing and support services are tailored to the unique needs of local communities. This helps create inclusive, compassionate spaces that foster safety, belonging, and long-term community participation for women and children.

Affordable Housing – Village Building

In Marrickville, NSW, we're developing the Marrickville Village – A Marmot Place, which will provide over 40 homes for older women from culturally diverse backgrounds. This initiative offers a safe, stable environment where women can rebuild their independence and continue their recovery journey.

The project is designed to help women progress sustainably from crisis to a point where they have sufficient income, assets, capability, and capacity to manage day-to-day financial and economic decisions. Our goal is to equip them with the skills and support they need to navigate life's ups and downs, ultimately fostering long-term economic security and confidence.

Reflect Reconciliation Action Plan

Good Shepherd continues its reconciliation journey. We are committed to supporting an equitable Australia where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women, children and families have the same life opportunities as all other Australians, and where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples no longer contend with the structural barriers that harm and hinder them in their daily lives.

LGBTIQA+ Inclusivity

In May 2021, Good Shepherd was awarded The Rainbow Tick for our specialist family violence program. We are now working towards extending the Rainbow Tick across all our Safety and Resilience programs and services, with the aim of gradually attaining Rainbow Tick status across all of Good Shepherd in the coming years.

value of each person

Vision, Mission and Values

Our Vision

We aspire for all women, girls and families to be safe, well, strong and connected.

Our Mission

We strive for dignity and social justice for women, girls and families by collaborating globally and acting locally.

Seeing the Value of Each Person and respecting everyone's rights.

Reconciliation by supporting people to find peace, wellbeing, and wholeness within themselves, with each other and in their environment.

Justice by challenging systems and behaviours that disadvantage people and advocating for positive change.

Audacity having the courage to speak out, follow new paths and take action for the Mission.

Zeal we are wholehearted in our purpose.

The Impact We Seek

We will shape our service delivery approaches across the prevention to recovery service continuum, focusing on FIVE IMPACT AREAS.

People-centred holistic services

Audacious reform and bold system change

Activating and enabling ecosystems and a broader ecology of support

Women, girls and families live full and dignified lives

Dignified income and financial wellbeing

We're grateful for our partners

"What are we doing in this world and why are we here, if not to contribute to the well-being of our neighbors."
